===== FIRST AVENGERS (2008)

"The Avengers" is a superhero film based on the Marvel Comics superhero team the Avengers. The film was directed by Joss Whedon, and it stars Robert Downey Jr., Chris Evans, Mark Ruffalo, Chris Hemsworth, Scarlett Johansson, Jeremy Renner, Samuel L. Jackson, and Chris Pratt. It was written by Whedon along with a number of writers, including Steve Mallory, Zak Penn, and Drew Pearce. The film was released in the United States on May 4, 2008, and earned $1,049 million at the box office. A BRIEF HISTORY (2008) Like an umbrella covering various superhero comic books, a film based on the Marvel Comics superhero team the Avengers was first announced in October 2001 at the International Consumer Electronics Show. This film was announced again at the 2003 Comic-Con, before any script was written. Marvel felt that the rights to the Avengers were now sufficiently large that they could be used to form a film franchise. Once this decision was made, the company began developing the film in 2006, looking for a director. Whedon was given the chance to direct the film in August 2007, but he turned it down. Whedon told Marvel Studios president Kevin Feige at that time that he would be interested in writing and directing an Avengers film. Whedon had expressed interest in making a superhero film at an early point in his career. He had written and directed the 1997 film As Good as it Gets. The film stars Jack Nicholson, Helen Hunt, Chris O'Donnell and Melissa Leo. Whedon took time away from the Marvel movie to work on a project for Lionsgate, but the project changed as it went along and never became the "right" version of the film. The
